What happens after the cremation?

Following the cremation of a loved one, there are several options for the care and memorialisation of their ashes.

We understand and appreciate that deciding on the final resting place can take time and that's why we offer flexible and supportive solutions to meet your needs.

We can securely store the ashes for as long as you need, at no cost, giving you the space and time to make a thoughtful decision. During this time we are available to help and discuss the various Memorial options including:

- Scattering ashes in our gardens
- Burying ashes in a Memorial garden of your choice
- Placing the ashes in an above ground Memorial option

You also have the option to split the ashes should you wish to have a Memorial within our grounds but also have a home-based Memorial where you can keep ashes. This also gives you the option to place ashes into jewellery or other keepsakes in the future, should you wish.

Placing the ashes

Whatever your final decision, we will always make sure that you can be present when your loved one's ashes are laid to rest in our gardens of remembrance, should you wish to be.

Personalisation

Most Memorials offer personalisation whether they are crematoria based or kept at home – let us know if you have any specific personalisation requirements.

The following pages offer an insight into the specific Memorial options available; from crematorium Memorials to personal Memorials that you can cherish at home, we offer a wide variety.

If you are interested in a Memorial which isn't included or is bespoke, please let us know and we will do our best to help create your vision.

Whatever your decision we are here to support you throughout the process, ensuring that your loved one's memory is honoured in a way that feels right for you and your family.

We're here to support you and provide guidance every step of the way.
